CYCLONE STRIKES HICKMAN; 23 DEAD; 43 INJURED; HOUSES SWEEP AWAY, MANY ARE HOMELESS

Whole Families are Killed; Some Injured May Die. Two Temporary Hospitals Established. City in Darkness Sunday Night. Everything Swept Before Hurricane—Death and Destruction Left Behind. Streets Filled With Trees and Debris. Special Trains Bring Dead and Injured. Many Houses and Barns Gone, Stock Killed and Farms Ruined.

Came Without Warning.

Unmindful of its approach—like a thief in the night—and with only a few brief moments warning, the Grim Reaper, on the wings of the wind of a furious hurricane descended upon this community about 4:25 o'clock last Sunday afternoon, and took frightful toll of life and property, leaving in its wake dead, dying and crippled, sped on its way, taking still other victims unawares.

Frantic and frightened people of this city, when they saw the curious, boiling, twisting agitated, vacillating funnel-shaped cloud approaching from the west, hastily sought temporary refuge in cellars or any place that seemed to offer protection. Hundreds, who never before saw a cyclone, instantly knew one was coming.

Cloud Was Masked.

It was a quiet Sabbath afternoon. There was nothing about the weather conditions a few moments before to indicate danger of a storm. An ordinary looking rain cloud, though mild, lay to the north, while in this immediate section there was tendency to "clear up." But an unforeseen change in the elements rapidly developed. Suddenly the white, milky looking clouds, forming a mask for the tornado, disappeared, and the frightful, revolving, top-shaped, blue-black cloud stood out boldly in the west, with its train dragging the earth. At this time no noise was heard, and it came on steadily and little time was left for warnings or escape among those who were not in the open.

In less time that it requires to relate it, the cyclone was bearing down upon us, and the distant roar became clearly audible in an atmosphere of peculiar oppressiveness and lack of circulation; louder and louder it became with its nearer approach until the awful roar grew into a continuous crash and din, increasing in intensity and volume until the stillness was broken by a rush of wind, crashing trees, flying debris—until all was lost in a maelstrom of noise and blackness which baffles the writer's power of description.

Lasted Two Minutes.

Probably two minutes elapsed during this awful, harrowing suspense—and the roaring, black, death-dealing monster—had passed; it was pursuing its eastward or northward journey—and a gentle rain of a few minutes followed. Emerging from temporary places of safety—we beheld a changed landscape; and with the coming of more light, the great work of destruction could be seen. Great trees, two feet in diameter, houses, barns, fences, poles, wires—everything movable were strawn about, forming a magnificent conglomeration, barring highways, destroying telephone and telegraph communication, and leaving each community isolated from the other. Its path was from 300 yards to a half mile wide.

Dead and Injured.

Self-appointed volunteers, in automobiles, began immediately to search the out-lying districts, where the cyclone struck with full force, for dead or injured. Cars were soon arriving from the west with injured and tragic stories of death and disaster. The calls for medical aid were so numerous, the local physicians decided a temporary hospital would serve the best purpose, and the city hall was converted into a temporary hospital. Car after car brought in injured persons, bloody and mud-besmeared; many in heart rending conditions, some almost nude. These were placed on cots in the hall and first aid administered. Crowds of anxious relatives thronged about the doors to learn the condition of their loved ones.

In the meantime, the word had reached other near-by towns and physicians from Fulton, Union City, Woodland, and other points hurried to Hickman to help, and stayed so faithfully with the task all night long, as did also our local physicians. The good ladies of Hickman acted as nurses and furnished bedding, food, etc., and worked constantly throughout the night over the blood-stained, suffering victims, whose pitiful moans and delirious wailings, especially the subdued and agonizing cry of little ones, touched even the hardest heart.

Rescuers continued their search throughout the night and when morning dawned, there were 26 in the white hospital and 12 in the colored—making a total of 38; and probably ten who were cared for in their homes.

Three Die in Hospital.

Mrs. Alice Neal, died at the hospital early Monday morning; two of her little ones lay dead at Miller, and two more were on stretchers in the hospital with her.

One of the little Neal children was so badly hurt that he died on the rescue train enroute to Hickman Sunday night.

Lucian Eubank, age about 35 years, an inmate of the hospital, died about noon Tuesday. Besides a compound fracture of the leg, he sustained internal injuries.

W. A. Gibson died in the hospital Monday. He was 63 years old. When brought in he had an eye out, face frightfully cut and internally hurt. Near his foot his wife lay also badly injured and did not know of her husband's death.

The injured negroes, under the care of Dr. W. J. Weston, were given a temporary hospital in the old Fethe Book Store building on Clinton street.

In addition to out of town physicians, three nurses from Nashville, one from Fulton, and two of Hickman, are in attendance upon the wounded.

Started in Arkansas.

According to reports, the tornado must have originated in Arkansas, crossed Tennessee into Kentucky, and abated somewhere in this State. It did its greatest damage in Kentucky. In Arkansas 15 are reported killed; Dyers-

Mengel Damaged $15,000.

The big plant of the Mengel Box Co., on the west out-skirts of Hickman, was badly damaged. The roof of the main building was damaged, five smoke-stacks blown down and the mill generally impaired. The upper mill or saw mill, building had the central portion of the roof torn away and logs were scattered and blown into the river and lost. The power plant was put out of commission and it will be some time before work can start again, thus throwing hundreds of men out of their regular employment.

Only one was injured—a negro slightly hurt—at the plant. Any other day in the week, the casualties would doubtless have been many more.

MUST BELIEVE IT.

When Well Known Hickman People Tell It So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Hickman the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every sufferer of kidney backache, every man, woman or child with kidney trouble will do well to read the following:

Joe. Provow, prop. barber shop, 810 Johnson Ave., Hickman, says: "From over working and standing so much, my kidneys became affected and my back gave me a lot of pain. I had sharp, shooting pains across the small of my back and the kidney secretions were irregular in passage. I had to get up at night quite a few times to pass the secretions, which were highly colored and smelling in passage. I used Doan's Kidney Pills whenever I was troubled in that way and I have never failed to be helped by them."

CYCLONE STRIKES HICKMAN

(Con. from first page.)

Col. Walker, branch manager, roughly estimates the loss and damage from the cyclone at the mill at between $10,000 and $15,000.

The mill was just in the south edge of the tornado's path.

Syd. Dodds Heaviest Loser.

From a point of property damage, Syd. L. Dodds sustained the greatest individual loss. His beautiful, well equipped west farm was exactly in the center of the storm.

Ten negro tenants on his place were killed and a score injured.

Twenty-two tenant houses were literally demolished and 15 cabins wrecked; ten barns, three of them large and costly, were demolished; 32 head of the finest mules in the county were either killed outright or so badly injured they had to be shot. The mules were jointly owned by Ernest Johnson and Mr. Dodds, and the horrible shape these animals were left in just after the crash was positively sickening.

Mr. Dodds estimates his loss at $40,000, with the firm of Johnson & Dodds loss about $10,000.

This magnificent farm, with settlements almost equal to a small town, and the splendid improvements which made it the pride of the delta west of town, is laid waste in a most distressing manner. Every building in the storm's route was swept away—even to the foundations of some. The fences are gone, crops ruined, fields strewn with wreckage. What trees were left standing, are merely gaunt spectres of the former magnificent specimens of that section. Hanging on limbs are all kinds of wearing apparel and household plunder from the negro homes. Farming implements and vehicles are torn up and scattered. In fact, the place is wrecked.

It requires indomitable courage and faith in the future for its owner to undertake to replace and rebuild after all this destruction—the wiping out in a moment the work of many years—but Mr. Dodds is starting in to do this. But it is a Herculean task—with labor killed and injured; work stock dead; houses gone, barn and feed destroyed; crops blown off the fields, etc. Singularly enough, Mr. Dodds suffered the heaviest loss in a storm here this spring, when his east farm was badly damaged—silo, barns, etc. wrecked. But Syd. Dodds is not the kind of man who surrenders to misfortune. His own losses he overlooked and devoted himself to helping those in distress during the awful calamity.

Hickman Badly Damaged.

While the city of Hickman was only "side-swiped" by the tornado, so to speak, the main portion of it being over the river while passing the town, the damage to the property will aggregate many thousands of dollars. It would be almost impossible to compile a complete list of the damage.

Many residences were damaged by the wind and falling trees. The roofs of several business houses were rolled up and torn off. Several of the principal streets were so barricaded by falling trees that one could not even pass on horse-back.

Both telephone companies sustained heavy losses, as did also the telegraph company. Communication was cut off.

Being Sunday, many families were scattered, and painful anxiety reigned for a time until the whereabouts of relatives and friends were established.

City In Darkness.

Besides having the buildings partially unroofed and distributing lines pulled out, the light and power company's lines were down all over town, and Sunday night found the city shrouded in darkness. Candles and coal oil lights were pressed in service, and the injured in the hospital had to be treated under these circumstances. The company's linemen and all worked faithfully throughout the night and Monday, several men from the Fulton plant assisting the local crew.

Community Sorrow-Stricken.

A pall of gloom has settled over this community as a result of the Sunday tragedy. The public sensibilities are in a manner numbed and it is hard to realize that so many have been killed and mangled.

Undertaking establishments have been taxed in holding the twenty some odd funerals. In some instances, two have been buried in the same grave.

Local Red Cross.

Under the direction of E. D. Roberts and S. F. Friedman, two men from the American Red Cross, a local Red Cross organization has been perfected, with headquarters at the old Peoples Band building.

The finance committee has raised about $2,000, and Mr. Roberts says it will require $20,000 to $25,000 to handle the situation and rehabilitate the injured and destitute.

The organization is composed of the following:

General Committee: Rev. W. F. Renneberg, Chairman; C. B. Travis, Treasurer; H. C. Helm, Secretary; E. D. Roberts, Red Cross Executive.

Finance: H. C. Helm, C. B. Travis, and W. A. Johnston. Appraisers: D. B. Wilson, H. C. Barrett, T. T. Swayne, B. G. Hale, Sr., C. T. Bondurant and Gus LeMore.

Food: Mrs. J. W. Roney (forming her own committee).

Housing: S. L. Dodds, T. A. Ledford, B. B. Harrison, F. T. Randle.

Funeral: Clarence Henry and S. F. Friedman (Red Cross).

Purchases: A. O. Caruthers.

Visitation: Mrs. Jessie Dilton, Mrs. R. L. Bradley, Miss Frances Ingram.

Storing: Mrs. Marie Guerry. Store in old Bondurant store building.

5 Killed at Bondurant.

At no point in Fulton county did the cyclone seem to have struck with more terrific, deadly, destructive force than at Bondurant, eight miles west of Hickman, resulting in the death of four members of one family and one of another and a number injured.

The dead are Alvin Henderson, Mrs. Alvin Henderson, their two year old son, Tump Henderson, half brother of Alvin; and Prather, the 12 year old son of R. J. Reynolds.

Injured: O. Lay, Lovie Henderson, Luther Anderson, Jack Madison and Will Lay. The latter were all brought to Hickman on the relief special Sunday night.

Bondurant is the youngest town in this county, having sprung up a few years ago with the advent of the new railroad, and its growth was further augmented by the locating of the A. B. Smith Lumber Co. plant at that point, employing about 100 men. The population was something like 150 people.

Twenty-five residences were wrecked, 15 of which were demolished completely. One large residence was literally carried away, not even portions of it being found. Two of the store buildings were slightly damaged, as was also the lumber company's office, which was converted into a temporary morgue Sunday evening, by Horace Sowell and his rescue party.

All four of the bodies of the Henderson family were found in the water in the slough, 100 yards from where their home was located. Not a vestige of the house they occupied remained after the storm—house, garden, implements, etc., all being swept away as though accomplished with a gigantic broom. The bodies were extricated from the debris, almost nude, with great difficulty.

The A. B. Smith Lumber Co., headquarters at Paducah, sustained heavy losses in the wrecking of their big saw mill plant, and lumber from their yards is scattered as far as a mile from the mill. The mill is unroofed, creened and the three smoke stacks carried in different directions from their locations. Their log train, loader, locomotive and several cars were blown a quarter of a mile. One of the mill employees and a little boy sought refuge on the trucks under the locomotive and made the quarter of a mile journey in this dangerous place at a dangerous time and were not injured. None of the mill men would venture to estimate the company's loss, but it will be several thousand dollars at least, and may require a month's time to repair and straighten out for operation again.

A Mr. Key, "dummy" engineer, was slightly injured, receiving a gash on the head; and Mrs. Maud Hughes was struck on the head by a piece of flying timber which made a painful bruise.

Herschell Felts and wife had a house blown down on them but both escaped injury.

The new combination church and school building, built by popular subscription and just finished, was completely demolished.

Perceval Davis probably owes his life to the animal instinct of the mare he was riding as the storm was in a manner of overtaking him. The animal simply could not be urged to go when the roar of the cyclone was heard but laid down, in spite of the fact her rider used his whip freely. Knowing not what else to do, Davis crawled in between her legs, using her body as a shield, and was not even scratched.

The slough acted as a catch-all for a little of everything from dead human beings to household plunder, lumber, implements, trees, etc. Though about 30 feet wide and a number of feet deep, this latent stream is scarcely visible in places, being covered from bank to bank. The virgin forest, for a width of a quarter of a mile at this point, was torn in shreds and scattered promiscuously.

4 at Tyler Hurt.

Tyler, the first station this side of Bondurant, fared about as badly as it could. The cotton gin was torn to bits and what few houses it had were demolished.

The family of Claude Hale, a brother of B. G. Hale of this city, his wife and two children were all injured, but none seriously.

Aside from the cotton gin, Tyler was a mere shipping point.

8 Injured at Phillippy.

In the little town of Phillippy, Tenn., west of Hickman, eight persons were injured, and only one house out of twenty was left standing.

Archie Mickle and wife, white, were most severely injured; the other six injured being negroes. The two Baptist churches of the town, one white and the other negro, were demolished. A cotton gin and the C. M. & G. depot were unroofed.

2 Dead; 11 Missing.

BIG DITCH BEING DUG.

A special from Mayfield says that the work of digging a ditch in Little Obion river bottom from Pryorsburg to Hickman county, a distance about ten miles, will be completed in the next few days. The ditch is forty feet wide and is to cost about $55,000. This work was begun by a big dredge boat in April 1916. The expense is to be paid by the land owners, who are given ten years in which to pay it. The water from Little Obion river will flow into it, and the land for a large area in that section will be largely increased in value.

The next quarterly conference dates have been announced by Presiding Elder W. W. Armstrong. He will be at Hickman Aug. 19th.

JAMES TURNED DOWN.

Senator Ollie M. James has received his first turn-down by the administration in the appointment of Percy Haly to the position of Collector, held by his friend Ben Marshall, of Frankfort. Senator Beckham's faction of the Democratic party has been managed by Percy Haly for seventeen years, and it is quite natural that he should want to reward him and incidentally have him in a position to "play politics." Senator Beckham claimed the right to remove Marshall as an obnoxious political enemy and handed Senator James one by providing him with the same kind of handicap.

HOW TO START A FORD.

A rural subscriber asks for a recipe for starting a Ford auto in cold weather. That's easy: You just repeat the name of the prophets in Arabic, put a gumdrop in the cylinder, roll up your sleeves, connect the batteries with the fillings in your teeth or your watch case, rip off your belt and necktie, yell the word Sherman used as a synonym for war in the gasoline tank, breath hard against the carburetor so as to warm the frost off of it, being careful not to let your whiskers get tangled up in the fly wheel; and then twist the crank around several hundred revolutions. If the engine backfires and kicks you into the mud, knocking out a handful of teeth, the machine is ready to go. That's a sure sign the motor has started.

MUSIC CLASS RECITAL.

In the rush of other matters, the Courier failed to get in its columns last week a mention of the splendid recital at the Court House on the previous Thursday evening given by the pupils of Miss Marguerite Fuqua's music class. The class this year did exceptionally well and its work was enjoyed by a large audience. The program was as follows:

"Among Friends"—Leonora Amberg.

"Who'll Dance with Me"—Sadie Naifeh.

"Little Boy Blue"—Rhee West.

FOUR WEEKS IN HOSPITAL

No Relief—Mrs. Brown Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"For years I suffered so sometimes it seemed as though I could not stand it any longer. It was all in my lower organs. At times I could hardly walk, for if I stepped on a little stone I would almost faint. One day I did faint and my husband was sent for and the doctor came. I was taken to the hospital and stayed four weeks but when I came home I would faint just the same and had the same pains."

A friend who is a nurse asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it that very day for I was suffering a great deal. It has already done me more good than the hospital. To anyone who is suffering as I was my advice is to stop in the first drug-store and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before you go home."—Mrs. W. C. BROWN, 2844 W. 12th St., Cleveland, Ohio.

WAS BEST TRUCK GROWER.

T. W. Drevory died at his home two and one-half miles north of town last Thursday after a lingering illness. He came to this vicinity about 11 years ago from Hickman and was a highly esteemed old gentleman. He was noted in this community as being one of the best truck farmers in the county, always winning first prize at the county fair. He leaves a wife, one son, a number of relatives and a host of friends to mourn his death. Funeral services were conducted Sunday and the remains laid to rest in the Walnut Grove cemetery.—Kenton (Tenn.) Herald.

Cincinnati Man Tells How To Shrive Up Corns or Calluses So They Lift Off With Fingers.

Ouch! ! ! ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says: freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or sore corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone tell him to order a small bottle for you. Adv.

SMALL INCREASE IN COTTON ACREAGE.

Owing to a variety of causes, there has been a falling off in the acreage planted to cotton compared to last year. This decrease is estimated by The Commercial Appeal at 3.2 per cent.

The conditions compared to normal is 72.7 per cent, according to reports of average date of May 23. This compares with 77.5 on May 25, last year, and a low record for this date of 70.5, made in 1907.

The crop received a very severe blow from the cold weather of May 1 to 15. Up until that time progress was about normal and the outlook excellent.

SALT BATHS FOR GOLDFISH

They Should Be Given Every Two Weeks to Keep the Pets Healthy.

Goldfish may be kept healthy by giving them a salt bath about every two weeks. Do it this way: Put a teaspoonful of salt in a quart of clear water and place the fish in it for 15 minutes—no longer. When changing the water in the aquarium, a small wire strainer will be found a great convenience. Pour all the water from the goldfish bowl, with the fish, into a basin. Rinse the bowl, dry it, fill with fresh water and with the wire strainer pick up the goldfish and drop them back into the bowl. Aquariums should be kept in a cool place and not exposed to the direct rays of the sun. Feed the fish every other morning, allowing six or eight fish one-fourth of a sheet of food cut in small pieces. Sick fish have often become strong and healthy after a few salt baths.

HEALTHIEST CITY IN WORLD.

A prominent inspector of health has shown from statistics that London is one of the healthiest, if not the healthiest, city in the world. He attributes the low death rate—still on the decline—to the perfect sanitary system of the city and its suburbs, its many open spaces, the teaching of hygiene in the schools of the county council and its effect upon the parents, the progress of suburban life, outdoor sports, and the magnificent street-car systems which get the workers away each day from unhealthy environments.

He pleads for a more vigorous enforcement of the factory and building acts and the voluntary abandonment of week-end parties. "City life requires a real tonic, which is not provided by card parties in boat-houses and seaside trips." Best, he thinks, is more recuperative to the nerve tissues of the busy man of the world as well as the working man.

A TOTAL LOSS.

"Some of these days he may lose ten or twelve dollars that way."

FLOATER CAUGHT HERE. MAY BE U. ARMSTRONG.

The badly decomposed body of a white man was found in the Mississippi river just above town Thursday afternoon by J. A. Barton and Martin Swanson.

Coroner H. C. Barrett was notified and had the body taken ashore at the mouth of Obion Creek, where it was buried.

While positive identification could not be established, it is thought the man was Ulysses Armstrong, of La Fayette, Ky. This clew was gotten from a letter found on the body addressed to Ulysses Armstrong, and addressed him as "Dear Brother," and dated Aug. 25, 1916. Evidently the body had been in the water a long time. The man wore a blue serge suit and in the pockets were found $2.87, several post card photos, also another letter addressed to "Dick Armstrong, at Charleston, Mo., of date of Aug. 23, 1915.

In response to inquiries by Mr. Barrett, a telegram came from La Fayette, asking if the body could be shipped, cost, etc., and nothing more has been heard.

MRS. LUCY BUCHANAN.

The remains of Mrs. Lucy Buchanan, who died Wednesday night in Asbury Park, N. J., arrived here Saturday morning, the remains being accompanied by her nephew by marriage, J. M. Moore.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 by Rev. J. W. Waters, with interment at the city cemetery. Until seven years ago Mrs. Buchanan was one of the best known ladies of this city, having been prominent in social and church circles for the past half century, going to Jersey City after the death of her husband, H. Buchanan, a retired merchant, seven years ago, where she had since resided. She was 88 years old and very active up until a few months ago.

A large crowd was at the cemetery when the cyclone hit, but none of them were hurt.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES A SLUGGISH LIVER.

Crashes Into Sour Bile, Making You Sick And You Lose A Day's Work.

Calomel salivates! Its mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile, it crashes into it, causing cramping nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It is harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it. Ad.

The division boards will meet June 2nd to elect teachers for rural schools.

The salary schedule for the payment of rural teachers has been raised so as to increase the salary $4.00 per month. Teachers who pass the examination on the reading circle books will receive $1.00 additional per month next term. The examination will be held at an early date.

Commencement exercises of the Sylvan Shade High School will be held May 31st.

Flags will be provided for each rural school in the county. The districts will put up the flag pole and then call for the flag, which will be raised with suitable exercises. We expect every school in the county to have a flag.

The school at Bondurant was badly damaged by the storm. It will be repaired just as soon as possible so school can be reopened.

AN APPEAL TO CITIZENS OF FULTON COUNTY.

The Citizens Relief Committee authorizes us to issue an appeal to the citizens of Fulton county for financial contributions to be used in aiding the cyclone sufferers who are quartered in the city.

Inasmuch as the victims are Fulton county people (not citizens of Hickman) an appeal to all good people of the county is not out of place; it is a county affair and the committee hopes the citizens of other sections will respond. The people of Hickman are not only rendering personal service in this sad affair, but have already given more than $2,000 in cash. The Red Cross representative advises us that fully $20,000 are needed—an amount too large for any one town to bear.

If you feel disposed to render assistance, it will be most gratefully received. Checks may be made payable to The Courier and we will see that they are promptly placed in the hands of the Relief Committee, which, we can assure you, will spend it judiciously and to aid the injured and little ones who are without home or parents.

SHERIFF, COUNTY CLERK PHYSICIAN MEMBERS BOARD

Gov. Stanley wired Dr. H. E. Prather, county health officer, Thursday, that he had appointed him as a member of the registration board of Fulton county, which is to have charge of the registering next Tuesday. This board is composed of the sheriff, county clerk and one physician. Sheriff Huddleston is the chief executive officer of the Fulton board of registration. In his hands rests the naming of registrars, seeing to it that places of registration are provided; that they are furnished with supplies for the day's work and keeping the government in touch with the progress of the work. County Clerk Roper will act as clerk of the board and keep all of the records. Into his hands will come the registration cards, containing answers to questions which will be propounded to each man between 21 and 30 who registers. Copies of these records will be furnished both the adjutant general of Kentucky and the provost marshal. Dr. Prather's services, as we understand it, will have to do with weeding out the physically unfit, which is calculated to take a world of work off the shoulders of the regular army surgeons in making examinations.

News Snapshots Of the Week

Nearly 10,000,000 young men of America between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-one were included in the president's summons to register for the selective draft on June 5; elaborate preparations were made in every state to use the regular election machinery; Provost General Enoch Crowder evolved the system of registration adopted, and its effectiveness lies in its simplicity. Secretary Baker further announced that an army of 27,000 will be sent at once to France under General Pershing, 2,000 being marines under Colonel Doyen. Sailing for France on the American liner Mongolia, two nurses from Chicago were killed by a defective shell fired from the naval gun on the ship. Atlanta was visited by the most disastrous fire in its history, which wiped out 1,583 buildings, made 20,000 homeless and did a damage of $3,500,000; soldiers training at the officers' reserve camp at Fort McPherson, Ga., were called in to aid.

SHAW ASKS RE-ELECTION AS MAGISTRATE.

The Courier is authorized to announce Esq. Hannon J. Shaw as a candidate for re-election to the office of Magistrate in District No. 4, which covers the western extremity of the county.

He is subject to the Democratic primary, etc.

It is hardly necessary to elaborate upon his qualifications, nor does he need any introduction. He is just finishing a term in this office and has made one of the most popular and efficient members of the Fiscal Court, and he will certainly be re-elected without opposition. It is certain a better man could not be found in the district for the place.

While he has co-operated with the court in an equitable distribution of the county's funds, he has also given his own district both public and private attention as the roads and bridges of the lower end of the county are 100 per cent better than when he took office. He is a public-spirited progressive young man—just the kind that is needed to handle the reins in the "lower bottom."

It will be no mistake to re-elect Esq. Shaw.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c. J. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

GUY WISEMAN DEAD. WAS IN STATE GUARD.

Guy Wiseman, a Hickman boy, died at Rockport, Ky., Tuesday morning, after a brief illness of flux.

Deceased was a member of the National Guard, 3rd Ky. Infantry, Co. K., and was called to the colors about four weeks ago. He had just returned from the Mexican border and spent his brief furlough visiting his mother, Mrs. Minnie Wiseman.

The body arrived home yesterday morning, accompanied by two members of the Guard, and was interred that afternoon.

Young Wiseman was slightly over 24 years old and single. Besides his mother, he is survived by his father, at Caruthersville, Mo., and two sisters, Mrs. Lena Pullen and Miss Helen Wiseman, and two brothers, Roy and Earl, all of Hickman.

We are told that flux is epidemic among the soldiers and causing considerable uneasiness.

The friends of this young man and the family regret exceedingly to learn of his untimely death.

JONES INSTALLS NEW MACHINERY IN BAKERY.

Percy Jones has just installed another big lot of improved machinery in his bakery, costing $600 or $800; the addition of which now gives him the most complete, up-to-date baking establishment in Western Kentucky.

With the installation of this new machinery, almost the entire process of bread-making is now mechanical starting from the time the flour is emptied from the barrel until it reaches the electric, sanitary package sealing machine. The large quantities of materials used in a single baking now require scientific machinery to get exact proportions; mere guess work will not suffice in a bakery turning out 2,000 loaves of bread per day; neither can "man power" be depended upon solely to turn off this amount of baking.

We are glad to see the home of "Eatmore" bread growing in size and capacity, forced by a great out-of-town demand for its product. Eatmore bread is now being served on the tables of homes in fully twenty near-by cities—and the business still grows. With Mr. Jones on the business end and H. F. Mayers looking after the baking department, the bakery has a strong team, and may confidentially look for a still larger volume of trade in the future. This is a home institution and also deserves home patronage in a full measure. If they did not turn out a good product dealers sixty miles away would not be ordering and selling it. The establishment is also a model of sanitation and neatness—which cannot be said for some bakeries, and merits its growing patronage.

A pretty heavy gale visited this section Friday night, but very little damage is reported. Chas. Noonon had a barn blown off its foundation and several fine trees in his woods lot were uprooted. The storm evidently reached its maximum intensity in that neighborhood, with Mr. Noonon's property being the worst damaged.

CROOKED OLD CUSS.

In Hickman is an old "tightwad" of a husband, who had forgotten what he owed to a dutiful wife when reproached by her for not giving her a birthday present each year as he used to do when he was "all smiles" while trying to win her, said in reply, "Sure, but, my dear, did you ever hear of a fisherman giving hate to a fish after he had caught it?"

TRY TO RAISE SOMETHING.

Let every man, and every child old enough to do any kind of work, raise something. No matter how little—raise something. If every man and boy raised one hill of potatoes, it would make more than a million bushels. If every housewife raised one chicken, it would add measurably to the meat product. "Despise not the day of small things"—"every little helps." Millions of individual efforts, added together, make a national achievement. Raise something.

Every household in Fulton county ought to have one of the county papers visit it every week in the year. And most of them are able even to have all of them in their homes. A county paper is really a household necessity, but of course, lots of people can't see it that way; but it is so, just the same. The home paper connects you with the outside world, and keeps you posted on the local happenings, which are worth more to you than anything else you can buy with the same amount of money—one dollar and twenty-five cents per year.

Cyclone Notes.

The property loss at Clinton is estimated at $500,000.

Chickens with the feathers all off—though dead—were plentiful. Mrs. Rutter, mother of Chas. T. Rutter, of Hickman, was killed at Bardwell.

We are indeed thankful that many of us were worse frightened than hurt.

Judge W. B. and H. L. Amburgey had five houses and a barn blown away.

Besides himself and family being injured, Claude Hale lost six tenant houses.

Syd. Dodds, one of the heaviest losers in the storm, headed the relief fund with $500.

Eight dead white persons were brought up from Miller and Bondurant Monday afternoon.

A horse at Bondurant was carried 400 yards from the barn lot and dropped without injury.

Over in Lake county, one may see a large mule lodged in the forks of a tree, fully 20 feet from the ground.

The Boy Scouts did good work in opening the streets of Hickman Monday, clearing away the fallen trees.

West of Hickman a monster tree was uprooted and three dead mules deposited in the hole by the tornado.

Four more nurses arrived yesterday from Louisville, making a total of ten in attendance upon the injured.

Not a person was killed in the city of Hickman and none injured seriously enough to go to the hospital.

The little town of Dublin, in Graves county, was swept away. About ten were killed and probably twenty-five injured.

Hundreds of people from nearby towns flocked to Hickman Monday to see the damage wrought by the cyclone.

At Ledford, on the farm of Mrs. J. A. Thompson, 13 mules escaped injury, although the barn they were in was demolished.

The Courier has given most of its space this week to the news of the tornado, and items of lesser importance have been passed.

One of the negroes at the levee camp, four miles west of town, is said to have been blown into the river and the body not found.

There have been hundreds of cars and thousands of sightseers in Hickman this week to see the damage wrought by the cyclone.

Milt Shaw saw a shoe that was thrown from the vortex of the twister within 200 yards of his home. Too bad the other one didn't drop out.

Remember, roses and flowers are plentiful and every patient in the hospital should have a bouquet. Just give them to the attendants at the door.

In response to a telegram from Mayor Gardner for soldiers, Gov. Stanley sent a company of soldiers to Bardwell to do guard duty and protect property.

The dead at Clinton are: Jno. Wooten, Wheeler Brooks, wife and daughter, Mrs. B. Boone and daughter, Jim Anderson, Miss Ellen Gore and six negroes.

Telephone and telegraph operators have been kept busy handling messages of inquiry from friends and relatives away from here as regarding storm victims.

Mrs. Boone Abernathy, though not seriously injured, had her shoes and stockings pulled off by the tornado. She was with her family behind the government levee at the time.

Another practical demonstration of the cyclone's force may be observed on S. L. Dodds' place. The handles of a pair of home-made pinchers or pliers are driven four inches deep into a tree.

Eye witnesses say as the cyclone went up the river at Hickman, it piled up a wave or wall of water appearing to be forty feet high, and the river seemed to run up stream in the wake of the wind.

Ledford, Ky., was also in the cyclone's path. The cotton gin, depot and several tenant houses were blown away. The only person hurt was Agent Page, who sustained a bruised knee.

A copy of the Hickman Courier, addressed to a Hickman subscriber, was found over in Graves county, being carried many miles by the wind storm.

The cyclone entered Fulton county at about the same point the C. M. & G. Ry. enters it and paralleled the railroad the entire distance to Hickman, with very slight variations.

The Court House was damaged to the amount of about $500, windows and frames being blown out, the roof damaged considerably, and the water tank ruined, it is all fully covered by insurance.

The ferry boat Kentucky, moored at the Hickman shore, according to an eye witness, was picked up out of the water, the superstructure jerked off, the hull and wheel dropped back and driven against the Missouri shore, where she lies now a typical derelict. The boat was owned by M. L. Barnes.

Some of the daily papers have carried wonderful stories of the cyclone at Hickman; wonderful for their distortion and exaggeration. From them we learn that 40 are dead at Hickman—that an awful hail storm followed the cyclone—that several were killed at "Cypress, Ky., in Fulton county," a town which must have been dropped in the county by the cyclone.

Corn and cotton fields, where nice crops were growing west of town and in the path of the storm, were literally swept clean; not a plant being left. Many fields have been so thickly strewn with logs and tree-tops it will be impossible to clean them up in time to make a crop this year. In fields knee high in alfalfa, the center of the storm path is marked by a brown, withered streak, probably two hundred yards wide.

One of the most pitiful cases in the local hospital is that of the little two year old son of Mrs. Alice Neal. The little fellow has both hips crushed and head cut. He cries pitifully for his mother—who passed away Monday morning beside the little sufferer. The father is dead, having been accidentally shot last year. It will be next to a miracle if the child recovers. This little fellow has a brother besides him—and the two are all that remains of a family of seven.

All planters, whose farms were in the cyclone path, sustained heavy damages in the loss of houses and barns. At this time it is impossible to enumerate the individual losses. From Hickman to the State line one may see from the C. M. & G. train a path of demolished buildings of all kinds. Fully 200 houses have been wrecked. Trees are torn and splintered and scattered in

The Practical Man's Car

The Maxwell is made right, inside and out.

It is not built to exploit the experimental ideas of any ingenious engineer.

It is not a new untried invention, not even a new model.

But it is the perfection of one model grounded like a rock on the known, proved, time-tried principles of automobile construction.

You don't need even to take the word of the great Company that makes the Maxwell—the records speak:

—thousands of Maxwell owners run their cars on $6 to $8 a month,

—others have driven them from 50,000 to 150,000 miles;

—which demonstrates Maxwell economy and endurance,

—which proves that it is the most inexpensive car to run.

—and that it is a many-season, not a one-season car.

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

I began Cardui. In a short while I saw a marked difference... I grew stronger right along, and it cured me. I am stouter than I have been in years. If you suffer, you can appreciate what it means to be strong and well. Thousands of women give Cardui the credit for their good health. It should help you. Try Cardui. At all druggists. E-73
